

The NNJTG April 29, 2009 meeting is quickly approaching!

Levine, Blaszak, Block & Boothby, LLP  - the law firm dedicated to the representation of large business users in telecom deals and disputes – and TechCaliber Consulting  - the leading consulting firm to large telecom users – are pleased to invite you to join us for the NNJTG meeting, Wednesday, April 29th, 2009.

The recession presents some surprising opportunities to restructure telecom deals. In a preview of the full day seminar that LB3 and TC2 are running in New York on May 29, we'll deal with how to address the unique financial, legal and technical challenges presented by negotiation (or renegotiating) in tough times. The subjects to be addressed include leverage points, key terms (e.g., business downturn clauses), the advantages of smart commitments, and carrier tactics. Benefit from the decades of experience that LB3 and TC2 have accumulated structuring the legal and financial aspects of telecommunications and technology contracts for major national and multinational companies.
